which con lated the two dams above and below the falls.

On the filst of July General A. Humphreys, Chief of the U. States Corps of Engineers, gave orders, gave orders, gave orders, gave orders, gave orders to G. and Weitzel to proceed at once to compressed in him, and provided for by the apportation cannot be instructions, General Weitzel commenced the work of locating and correcting the dam at the head of the falls, which has been completed, and the work of surveying and locating the dam at the head of the falls, which has been completed, and the work of surveying and locating the dam and to be commenced at once.

We understand that Gen Weitzel is now arranging to contract for the material to construct the two dams, and expects to have it all ready by part sprie, to bet out the contracts for the work. It is true, the appropriation does not cover the expense of constructing these groat dams, but it is the purpose of Gen. Weitzel to proceed with the work, and the following and manufacturing the spranging to contract for the material to construct the two dams, and expect to have it all ready by part sprie, to bet out the contracts for the work.
